

Peugeot 206 - Engine malfunction indicator light is on | HELLA

Peugeot

Model year from 2005–2007

Engine code DV6TED4 (9HZ)

Caution!

Engine malfunction indicator light is on

The wiring harness in the repair kit has different coloured cables than the cable set installed at the factory. Make sure that you connect the cables correctly during assembly.

ⓘ Important safety note

The following technical information and tips for practical use have been set up by HELLA in order to offer professional support to automotive workshops in their daily work. The information available here on this website is only to be used by appropriately trained specialist staff.

The reprinting, distribution, reproduction, exploitation in any form and disclosure of the contents of this document, even in part, is prohibited without our express written approval and indication of the source. The schematic illustrations, figures and descriptions are for explanation and presentation of the document text and cannot be used as a basis for installation or design. All rights reserved.